Do the Math

Based on a study by the National Center of Educational Statistics, it costs an average school $8.30 to send out one transcript. Depending on the size of the school district, that can add up to thousands of dollars and hundreds of hours of labor. How much could you save?

Security First

From student login to delivery confirmation, all data is kept private and secure. Every sending and receiving school is authenticated, and all data transmissions employ the same security technology that powers today's commerce and banking solutions.
